

Scottish Provident Institution

(ESTABLISHED 1837)

LIFE ASSURANCE.

THE PREMIUMS are so moderate that, at usual ages for assuring, £1200 or thereby may be secured from the first for the yearly payment which would generally assure (with profits) £1000 only—the £200 being equivalent to an immediate and certain Bonus. The WHOLE SURPLUS goes to the Policy-holders, on a system at once safe and equitable—the immediate assurance for the premium payable being exceptionally large, the Surplus is reserved exclusively for the policies of those Members who prove to be good lives.

The SURPLUS at last Valuation was £1,581,000.

More than Sixty per cent. of the Members who died during the last Septennial period were entitled to Bonuses which, notwithstanding that the Premiums do not as a rule exceed the non-profit rates of other Offices, were, on the average, equal to an addition of over 50 per cent. to the Policies which participated.

MAGNIVEN & CAMERON, LTD.,

Penmakers to His Majesty's Government Offices,
WAVERLEY WORKS, BLAIR STREET, EDINBURGH.

PICKED PENS FOR PARTICULAR PEOPLE.

NO pen is better known throughout the world than the WAVERLEY PEN, 6d. and 1/- per box, 3/6 per gross.

It glides sweetly over the paper. One of our most influential newspapers has in truth declared that the Waverley Pen is a treasure.

PERHAPS the next most popular pen is the J Pen, and this is a specimen of MACNIVEN & CAMERON'S J PEN, 6d. and 1/- per box, 2/- per gross (black). The point will not be found harsh when the pen is first used, as is too often the case with J pens of various makers. IF the writer writes on the side of the pen, THE LANTERN PEN, 6d. and 1/- per box, 3/6 per gross, is the pen to be used, and satisfaction will be the result. The Lantern Pen is really a steel quill pen. NEXT we present the Castle Pen, a shoulder pen of a pattern greatly favoured by many writers. It is equally suitable for correspondence or for ledger work. The CASTLE PEN, 6d. and 1/- per box, 3/- per gross, is made of steel, which is gilt with the finest gold in order to resist the action of the ink.

PENS made of steel necessarily require more time to wear themselves into the particular manner in which the person holds his pen, and by this time the corrosive action of the ink may have finished off the pen. After study and experiment we have brought out the SUAVITER PEN, 6d. and 1/- per box, 3/- per gross — a pen of special non-corrodible metal pen to the character of the writer's hand, while at the same time durable and flexible.

All MACNIVEN & CAMERON'S Pens, which are procurable at the Stationers, are made of the finest metals, and every pen is separately examined by experienced hands, and any found defective are discarded.

PREFATORY NOTE.

CENTENARY ISSUE.

THE PROPRIETORS of the 'POST OFFICE EDINBURGH AND LEITH DIRECTORY' have the honour and privilege of offering to their Patrons the Centenary copy of the Publication. In doing so they take the opportunity to gratefully thank the subscribers and the public of Edinburgh and Leith for their liberal support during so long a period; they also specially thank the gentlemen connected with the various Legal and Scientific Societies, Benevolent and other Institutions, to whom they are indebted for much useful information. Acknowledgment is likewise tendered to the local Press for their kindly criticism.

The present is a fit time for a brief retrospect of a compilation which has attained its centenary. When first published in July 1805, the Directory was small in dimensions, extending only to 237 pages. Like Peter Williamson's first Edinburgh Directory in 1773, an appendix was found to be necessary, owing to the number of omissions, and this was issued in the beginning of September following. Only the alphabetical arrangement of names was given—the section now termed the 'General Directory'—and this was in two parts, residents in Edinburgh being placed in the first part, those in Leith in the second. This method was adhered to until 1838, when the two sections were combined under the heading 'Edinburgh and Leith General Directory.' The Proprietors have always endeavoured to keep pace with the times, and this has brought about various additions and improvements in the book. The List of Streets and Places with reference to their situation appeared for the first time in 1825-26. The shape of the book was then altered, and made long and narrow, which form was continued until 1832. The Streets, Professions, and Trades, and the Twopenny Post sections—the latter being the localities in the vicinity of Edinburgh—appeared first in the issue for 1833-34. The County Directory was introduced in the publication for 1841-42, superseding the Twopenny Post section.

The origin of the Directory takes us back to a period prior to the introduction of railways, when travelling and correspondence by post were slow and expensive. In 1805 communication between Edinburgh and Glasgow was maintained by six coaches daily. Hackney chairs were then in common use, a table of fares for their hire being one of the miscellaneous items. A list of Post Towns in Scotland, with the Postage of a single letter from Edinburgh to each, reads strangely in the present day of almost universal penny postage throughout the British Empire. The postage of a letter to Glasgow was sixpence; to Aberdeen, ninepence; and to London, one shilling. It is also interesting to note the list of the Bounds of the High Constables.

The Plan of the City as given in the earlier issues does not bear the name of the designer, but that from 1826-59, with two or three exceptions, was by W. H. Lizars; from 1860-63, by W. & A. K. Johnston; from 1864-95, by John Bartholomew; and from 1896 till now has been the work of W. & A. K. Johnston Limited, and under their private survey is most accurate and descriptive, comprising the Wards and Parliamentary Boundaries. An excellently coloured Map of the County, by the same firm, is also inserted.

Printers.—As will be seen from the accompanying facsimile of the title page of 1805, the printer of the first Directory was J. Stark, Netherbow. Several other printers were employed from that time to 1826, when Ballantyne & Co. took the work in hand and continued it until 1866. Murray & Gibb (now Morrison & Gibb Limited) began with the issue of 1867-68, and in their establishment the Directory is still printed. This firm has evinced a genuine interest in the work, for which the Proprietors are grateful, their attention and general watchfulness contributing to ensure the accuracy of the contents.

Prices.—The price of the first Directory was 2s. 6d., but it would seem as if at that figure it was not fairly remunerative, for in its early years the price quickly rose. In 1811—if not sooner—the price was 3s. 6d., and in 1813 it was 4s., remaining at the latter figure until 1836. In 1837 it rose to 5s., which continued to be the price until 1881 (with the exception of three years, 1867-69), when it was published at 3s. 6d. In 1882 the price was raised to 5s. 6d., and in 1884 to 6s. The continued growth of the community necessitating a corresponding enlargement of the Directory, led to a further rise in 1897 to 7s., and in 1903 to 7s. 6d. It may be mentioned here that two opposition Directories came into circulation during the past century, 'Gray's Annual Directory' in 1832, and the 'New Edinburgh, Leith, and County Directory' in 1867, neither of which survived more than a few years.

The Directory is not an official publication of the Post Office, but it has always been favoured with the patronage of the Head of the Department in Scotland. From 1805 until 1830 it was under the patronage of the Postmaster-General for Scotland, and from 1831 until now it has had the same favour bestowed upon it by the Secretary to the Post Office for Scotland.

The Proprietors welcome suggestions, and endeavour to give effect to them when practicable. It is their aim and desire to make the compilation worthy of the liberal patronage bestowed upon it by the great community whom they have the honour to serve. Every effort has been made to render the work as accurate and complete as possible, but the Proprietors do not hold themselves responsible for any error or omission.

Notwithstanding the amalgamation of Portobello and other outlying districts with Edinburgh, these places are still treated for all POSTAL PURPOSES as formerly, and are not included in the ordinary deliveries from the General Post Office.

NOTE.—A mistake has apparently arisen in the early enumeration of the Directories, the first to be numbered being the issue of 1824-25, and which was announced as the 19th instead of the 20th annual issue of the book. As this error has been followed from year to year for upwards of eighty years, it has been thought advisable to make no alteration.

EXPLANATION.—In the Left-hand Table are the years of the Century, and above each is the Dominical Letter corresponding with that Year. Then, opposite to the Month, at the foot of the Right-hand Table, will be found a corresponding Letter, over which are placed the Days of the Month and Week for that Month (distinguishing the Sundays by a different type). Each Blank Space in the Left-hand Table shows the Year following to be Leap Year; and as every Leap Year has two Dominical Letters, the Letter above the Blank Space must be used for January and February in every Leap Year; and for the other months, use the Letters belonging to the respective Years.

By transposing the Dominical Letters, this Calendar would answer for any Century.
